

FRIDAY NIGHT SPEAKERS AT DHAMMALOKA IN JULY 2020

Friday July 10th

Shaun Nannup: Healing Your Heart

Shaun Nannup is a Wadkuk Noongar man and Aboriginal elder. He is passionate about healing from within and finding connection through our humanity and common ground. He conveys his message through the medium of storytelling which always makes for an inspiring, engaging and moving night.

Friday July 17th

Meggy Zegers: Love thyself and all Beings

Meggy Zegers is on a mission to assist other people to find peace within. To connect to self and find the wisdom to live life in a conscious way. She will share her journey from mental health issues, severe injury after an accident, and a big loss, to becoming healed and at ease with the unknown by loving herself and all beings. In bringing herself back to the present moment and trust, the unknown, in her eyes, has become a true gift.

Friday July 24th

Care Group: Gift of Listening

This will be a short workshop style session on the art of deep listening and being truly present. This valuable skill is not only of immense benefit when supporting others in these turbulent times, but a skill that is truly beneficial for one's own practice. Sitting without judgement and truly allowing space for expression is a rare gift these days.

Friday July 31st

Community Night: Stories and music

We are very lucky to have two extremely talented musicians and story tellers to share their gifts with us.

Ru aka Zal Kanga-Parabia radiates a nostalgic and heartfelt tone that is rare to find in today's fast paced, loud, moving world. Feeling their foremost intimate credence, with an emphasis on storytelling and dynamic build ups, Ru nurtures a connection through song. "Hauntingly beautiful and totally captivating" – The Music Australia

Joining Ru will be special guest Kobi Arthur Morrison who leads reconciliation choir groupings such as Madjitol Moorna, Koondarm and Walyalup Kannajil. Together through song Ru and Kobi Arthur Morrison offer a gentle sense of healing and connection to self and each other.
