PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

The Buddhist Society of Western Australia (BSWA) is committed to comply with applicable laws and Standards, to promote a culture of fair and ethical behaviour and to encourage the reporting of corrupt practices, breaches of the law, and matters detrimental to the BSWA or its reputation. Committee members will lead by example in actively promoting and complying with this Code of Conduct.

In taking our inspiration from the 4 Brahmaviharas: Metta, Karuna, Mudita and Upekkha, the BSWA encourages positive and collaborative interactions, kind speech; and peaceful efforts in resolving misunderstandings or disputes.

POLICY

The Code of Conduct outlines the required standard of acceptable conduct and behaviour that is expected of all volunteers, staff, members, and committee members in the performance of their duties and interactions in the BSWA. This required standard of acceptable conduct and behaviour supports BSWA's ability to maintain public trust and confidence in the integrity and professionalism of the services provided to the community, and our ethos of propagation of the teachings of the Buddha and the practice and realisation of Buddhist Principles, with a special emphasis on morality, meditation, and wisdom and the Theravada tradition.

The Code of Conduct and the behaviours outlined within it are fundamental to BSWA building healthy and positive relationships with its community. The Code of Conduct also governs the way in which staff, volunteers, members and committee members are to relate to other staff, volunteers, members and committee members.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The BSWA aspires to be peaceful, kind and gentle in every interaction through this code of conduct.

- We recognise each other as well-meaning and equal contributors with the best of intentions.
- We will provide an induction whenever necessary to assist the achievement of roles and responsibilities.
- A full operations manual of policies and procedures will be easily available and regularly updated.
- We acknowledge our generous benefactors and will do our best to accommodate their donor-directed requests whether they be private; by bequest; through government funding or relief; or external grants.
- We commit to practicing good ethics and good decisions based on our Buddhist Values and Principles.
- We respect and promote all human rights.
- We never compromise our integrity or BSWA's reputation and trust in exchange for a short-term gain.
- We aspire to learn from the opportunity in our interactions and to build and enhance trust between us, and with all agencies and third parties.
- We honour privacy and confidentiality and protect information carefully.
- We respect all Federal and State laws and meet the reasonable expectations of any regulator.
- We will be honest and transparent in our dealings and prompt in responding to enquiries.

- Where we disagree with a law or instruction we will try and courteously resolve the matter before going to law or further redress.
- We maintain safe, accommodating and efficient spaces.
- We make good efforts to avoid conflicts of interest.
- We keep accurate and transparent records that can be viewed on inspection.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The BSWA Committee members are responsible for the effective management of the Code of Conduct.

All staff, volunteers and BSWA Committee members have a responsibility to comply with legislation, BSWA policy, procedures and the Code of Conduct, perform their duties effectively, provide impartial and accurate advice and act in a manner that promotes a productive and harmonious environment.
